E-business Oct 18 2019 How can the Internet and world wide web improve my long-term competitive advantage? This book helps answer this question by providing a better understanding of the technologies, their potential applications and the ways they can be used to add value for customers, support new strategies, and improve existing operations. It is not just about e-commerce but the broader theme of e-business which affects products, business processes, strategies, and relationships with customers, suppliers, distributors and competitors. To cover future trends, the editors have collected papers from authors operating at the frontiers of the developments so the reader can more appreciate the directions in which these technologies are heading. The resulting 165 essays have been collated into ten sections, which have been grouped in three parts: key issues, applications areas and applications, tools and technologies. A business rarely makes radical changes but is constantly making adjustments to circumstances. Businesses must now adapt to the global implications of the Internet and world wide web. This book hopes to aid awareness of the implications so that the changes are managed wisely.

How to Win Tenders Jul 19 2022 Winning a government tender is a valuable goal for Australian small businesses in these uncertain times, and this step-by-step guide unravels the process. Joanne Ryan, a professional communicator, former business chamber president and community radio presenter shows how tender wins are in the reach of small businesses. She has successfully worked with many small business owners and not-for-profit organisations who have secured significant government contracts. The competition to win government contracts, bids or tenders is fierce. The contracted supplier to a government department, agency or authority is assured of income from a secure source. The advice in this guide can help propel your business to the top of the tender queue and win that government contract. The task of preparing and writing a tender can be lengthy, tense and confusing, which is why many time-poor small businesses drop out of the game. This 40-page systematic and straightforward guide will help you work through tender requirements effectively and progress your submission. It also outlines procedures to become 'tender ready' for the future, so your business can respond swiftly to government tender notifications and capitalise on new opportunities more readily. "Your tender document is also a reflection of the approach your business takes to accuracy, quality control and communication style." - Joanne Ryan Joanne Ryan's guide has been developed for Australian small businesses seeking federal, state or local government contracts. This handy 'how-to' for best-practice bidding explains the key elements of tender preparation: •Insurance documents •Company Profile/Capability Statement •Work Health and Safety policies and procedures •Environmental Management Plan •Australian Standards •Risk matrix. The guide also includes a ten-step plan for tackling any tender and staying on course so that all-important submission is uploaded before the deadline. Avoid undue stress, streamline your efforts and secure that tender using Joanne Ryan's winning guide.

Ecopolis Oct 10 2021 From 2008, for the first time in human history, half of the world's population now live in cities. Yet despite a wealth of literature on green architecture and planning, there is to date no single book which draws together theory from the full range of disciplines - from architecture, planning and ecology - which we must come to grips with if we are to design future cities which are genuinely sustainable. Paul Downton's Ecopolis takes a major step along this path. It highlights the urgent need to understand the role of cities as both agents of change and means of survival, at a time when climate change has finally grabbed world attention, and it provides a framework for designing cities that integrates knowledge - both academic and practical - from a range of relevant disciplines. Identifying key theorists, practitioners, places and philosophies, the book provides a solid theoretical context which introduces the concept of urban fractals, and goes on to present a series of design and planning tools for achieving Sustainable Human Ecological Development (SHED). Combining knowledge from diverse fields to present a synthesis of urban ecology, the book will provide a valuable resource for students, researchers and practitioners in architecture, construction, planning, geography and the traditional life sciences.

Project Management Under Internet Era Jan 21 2020 Taking account of modern digital era, the emergence of Internet has brought a new scenario of ecology in project management (PM), its methodology, platform, procedures and tools are subjected to subversive changes. So a monograph of Project Management Under Internet Era is urgently needed for renewing concepts in our PM community. The concept of how PM is implemented on the virtual platform through Internet, which is widely used in PM community based on knowledge economy; meanwhile, it is different from former industrial economy with solid assets as its resources and run the project on a real physical manner. Beside the traditional PM, this book presents how shall we accommodate to conventional PM and also accommodate to Internet environment, it also discusses program management and portfolio management under Internet as well as the challenges of PM in the future. From strategic point of view, talent cultivation is extremely critical to PM development, we need to cultivate our talents accommodating to the digital era and on the "Internet +" platform. This is the impetus and the reason of why this monograph is initiated, which can be used as the textbook for graduate and undergraduate students in related majors, also a reference book to the practitioners, who are working on PM under Internet digital era.
